POKER CLUBS RULED OUT UNDER ALBANY'S ANTI-GAMBLING LAW

Albany will have no poker clubs or other gambling within the city limits. This was determined after an opinion rendered Monday night at the regular City Council meeting by City Attorney George Glavinovich.

Glavinovich had been asked if there were any legal rulings on city books which would prohibit the establishment of a poker club and restaurant on San Pablo Ave. between Portland and Brighton Ste.

An application presented to the Park Planning and Zoning Commission had been referred to the Council at the meeting of April 15. Glavinovich said an ordinance passed in 1921 by the City of Albany prohibits "all card games played with money or chips and any other games not bound by State laws," and that, therefore, it was within the province of the City Council to deny the application for such purposes.

The opinion was the first made by the newly elected city atorney.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

By R. S. WHITTAKER, M.D.

The story of Nora and how she grew to healthy womanhood after a childhood spent under the shadow of a grave illness is one which I have often told when discussing children's diseases.

Nora was about six years old when she complained that her legs ached. Her mother rubbed them with a liniment and told Nora the aches were "growing pains." The child thought it exciting that she could feel herself getting tall" and tried to make a game of the du'l ache in her legs.

The pain persisted. The mother noticed that Nora was also losing weight and that she was having a great many nosebleeds. She tried to tempt Nora to eat more by preparing special dishes, but the girl seemed to have no appetite. The pains and nosebleeds, accompanied by loss of weight, had gone on for several weeks when small lumps, or nodules, appeared under the skin on Nora's legs.

Than the mother became alarmed and decided it was time to put an end to the "growing pain" game. She brought the child to see me. When I heard about the pains, the nosebleeds and loss of weight and saw the nodules, there was little doubt in my mind that Nora had rheumatic fever. A thorough examination of the child proved that this was true.

It was my unpleasant duty to tell the mother that her daughter had a serious illness. Its seriousness lay principally in the fact that it might cause permanent injury to the heart muscles. Should this happen, it would cause immediate death but it would leave her with a permanently weakened heart.

Although I explained the gravity of the disease to the mother, I also told her that Nora's condition was by no means hopeless. With the proper care she might easily pull through the first attack without damage to the heart and with further care might avoid a recurrence of the disease.

Understanding the danger her daughter faced, the mother cooperated to the fullest in the treatment prescribed for Nora. The child was put to bed at once. She was given nourishing meals and other measures prescribed to relieve her condition. At my request, a visiting nurse went to the house regularly and helped the mother care for the child.

One of the most valuable services performed by the visiting nurse was in planning things for Nora to do while she was in bed — games and hand work which kept her amused without exerting her. Nora seemed to get the most fun out of drawing and painting.

Nora recovered from her attack of rheumatic fever without damage to her heart. Her mother realized, however, that another attack might be more serious. So she brought the child to me to be examined regularly. At the same time, following my advice, she took ever precaution against the child's catching cold or getting run down in any way knowing that she would be more apt to fall prey to rehcumatic fever again if her body became weakened by other diseases.

All this was done without pampering the child or letting her feel that she was an invalid who would need special attention all of her life. She was encouraged to keep up her interest in drawing. If she developed a talent in this direction, her mother realized it would keep her from activities which might be harmful to her.

When Nora entered high school, she took special art courses. Upon her graduation two years ago she obtained a position in a commercial art firm. She has continued to study art and gives promise of going far in her chosen work. Already she has had two promotions and is extremely happy.

Now, no doctor could possibly predict that a person like Nora would never again suffer from the disease she had as a child. Rheumatic fever may recur later in life, but the chances that Nora will have no further attacks are overwhelmingly in her favor.

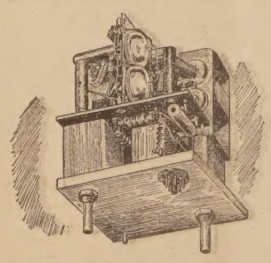
New vacuum tube equipment will speed long distance calls

Long distance expansion program in full swing



At dozens of places up and down the Pacific Coast we're going ahead with new vacuum tube equipment which boosts the number of telephone calls wires can carry.

This is just part of our unprecedented long distance expansion program now under way.

For the phenomenal development in this part of the country has resulted in a tremendously increased number of toll and long distance calls. (In 1945, for example, we handled nearly a million a day.) But we're working full speed ahead to install the additional facilities we need to provide a better and faster long distance service than ever before.

'San Antonio' Thriller Now At the Albany

Paul Kelly suffered severe powder burns and Errol Flynn narrowly missed a similar fate from a revolver shot during the filming of Warners' Technicolor film, "San Antonio," currently at the Albany Theatre.

The two actors were on location at Warner Bros.' ranch where scenes were being filmed. Flynn and Kelly were standing side by side as they reloaded their six-guns for further street fighting. The "dog" on the catch of Kelly's gun must have been faulty, causing the hammer to fall and discharge one of the cartridges. Powder from th blank shell imbedded itself in Kelly's left hand and left thigh and scorched Flynn's trouser leg.

Starred opposite Errol Flynn in the exciting western is Alexis Smith.

With the filming of the Ben Ames Williams best-seller, "Leave Her To Heaven," Gene Tierney, Cornel Wilde and Jeanne Crain were given the most dramatic roles of their careers. Rarely has any one picture given threes tars such outstanding individual opportunities as those in the Technicolor film, presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, which opens Sunday at the Albany.

"Leave Her To Heaven" received the Academy Award for the "Best Color Cinematography" of all pictures made in 1945. The beauty of its Technicolor will be seen at its best with new powerful Brinkert Projector lamps recently installed at the Albany show.

Better rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich makes Silvertowns run cooler, wear longer. Stronger cord, more cords per inch, and an extra shock-absorber breaker strip provide for a stronger tire body. Wider, flatter tread puts more rubber on the road to share the wear and gives quicker stops, better traction, and more safety.

Christian Science Lecturer Explains Healing Power

Harry C. Browne of New York City, a member of the Board of Lecturership of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusets, will state during his lecture Monday evening, April 29 at the Second Shurch of Christ Scientist, Berkely, Calif., in the Church Edifice 1521 Spruce Street, that to the spiritual demand of the Bible to love our neighbor as ourselves was the pre-eminent charge by Christ Jesus to "love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind" (Luke 10:27). It is the love of and worship of matter, the bowing down to mortal beliefs, that prevents the natural flow of spiritual ideas embodying health and holiness to come from God to human consciousness.

If you let the ideas of God's goodness flow freely from yourself to others, there will be no stoppages or obstructions in the body. Gallstones, indigestion, consumption, arthritis, constipation are the results of wrong thinking; so too are all other diseases.

Mr. Browne will tell how observing physicians, warning more and more of the harmful effects of wrong thoughts upon the body, are simply voicing a statement made by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, over seventy years ago. She said: "A sick body is evolved from sick thoughts. Sickness, dieases, and death proceed from fear. Sensualism evolves bad physical and moral conditions" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 260)

A physician once said to an audience, "We hate with every organ of our body." Is it any wonder that resentment, envy, unjust criticism, fear sensuality, jealousy, revenge upset a man's stomach disturb his liver, overtax his heart, consume his tissues, exhaust his nerves, paralyze his limbs, and contract his muscles? All this suffering and misery and incapacity appears to exist because mankind, believing in the reality of matter, is either fearing it or loving it. If hatred, evil passions, selfishness, lust, fear, and greed make the body sick and useless then forgiveness, faith, generosity, chastity, confidence, patience, and meekness will, through God's law explained in Christian Science, restore it to health and usefulness. This gospel of Christianity healed the sick in Jesus' time, and by scientifically understanding his teachings, which reveal man's oneness with the Father, the lost art of healing is being restored. Christian Science explains that the real man is above sin and frailty. He is immune to disease and death. He is never a failure. He is the highest idea of God, exercising dominion and protecting power over every lesser idea.

The divine power seems hidden to the human mind, and mortals feel helpless in the presence of sickness and disease. And why? "Because," as Mrs. Eddy states, "our systems of religion are governed more or less by our systems of medicine" (Science and Health, p. 146). We have been educated to rely upon matter, medicine, instead of God's effects of material thinking.

Is it any wonder that with such little faith in God healing is something long delayed?

Mortals resent this change to spiritual thinking and so they hang on to their material, pleasurable beliefs until suffering drives them to seek something outside of themselves for healing We should welcome this transition, because through giving up the counterfeit or material sense of things, we gain the genuine or spiritual sense, and that is what heals us. We shall not lose man nor any of the realities of being, but only our wrong beliefs about them.

LOOK to Greyhound first for

TIME-SAVING SCHEDULES

The people of California naturally count on Greyhound to provide a system of accurate, convenient, time-saving schedules that so many communities depend on so completely today.

This important Greyhound "first" in travel service is more important now than ever before, and Greyhound does this job better ...because it has trained, experienced experts in schedule building, the buses and equipment to put them into effect, the short, direct routes that save time, and a thorough knowledge of California's local transportation problems.

Greyhound is constantly planning more new schedules to move rapidly and safely—yet provide a complete local intercommunity service. And when the need arises for even faster bus service between larger cities Greyhound sets up extra schedules for additional limited buses to give still more and better service than before.

Cooked foods, too—rolls, pie, hash or stew that only require quick reheating. You buy these at seasonal low prices to save money in later months.

Yes, your new home kitchen will need plenty of frozen food storage capacity and food preserving refrigeration. Plan to have both as soon as new models are available.

The new Home Freezers will be available in either the upright type to match your refrigerator or the chest type. Either style will provide frozen food storage space for at least a month's supply for the average family.

Parking is no Picnic
WE MUST ADMIT that the picture we have drawn is slightly exaggerated. But the fact remains that parking spots, in busy districts, are hard to find, and are gradually shifting farther and farther away from the center of things.
Why not let us take over your parking and traffic worries for you? Then there'll be no more milling around through congested streets vainly searching for a spot to park. You'll start the day fresher, and return home SAFELY and QUICKLY by transit.
